Robert Edwards was blinded in an automobile accident nine years ago. He was also partially deaf because of old age. Last week, he was strolling near his home when a thunderstorm approached. He took refuge under a tree and was struck by lightning. He was knocked to the ground and woke up some 20 minutes later lying face down in water below a tree. He went into the house and lay down in bed.

A short time later, he awoke, his legs were numb and he was trembling, but when he opened his eyes, he could see the clock across the room fading in and out in front of him. When his wife entered, he saw her for the first time in nine years. Doctors confirmed that he had regained his sight and hearing apparently from the flash of lightning but they were unable to explain the occurrence. The only possible explanation offered by one trauma in a terrible accident, perhaps the only way it could be restored was by another trauma.

C. Edwards was unconscious for twenty minutes after the lightning had struck him.
D. Edwards awoke with his face in a puddle of water.

Question 18: What was the reason given by doctors when Edwards regained his sight?

- A. The lightning took the feeling from his legs and gave feeling in his eyes.
B. He regained his sight from the head injury when he fell from a tree.
C. He was very happy after his wife entered the room for the first time in nine years.
D. Because the trauma that blinded him was very severe, it took another very severe trauma to restore his sight.
