THE QUIZ SHOW

My best friend Jenny ... (1) ... on a TV quiz show a few nights ago. It was very exciting. We all knew that she ... (2) ... be on, so all our friends met at her parents' house to watch it. Her parents videoed it too, of course. The programme started at half past six. We screamed and clapped when we saw Jenny. She looked great. She had had her hair done, and was wearing the new top she had bought the day before. She sat in the chair in the middle of the studio while the ... (3) ... asked her some questions. The questions got harder and harder as they increased in ... (4.) If she didn't make any mistakes and get the most difficult question right, she would win a million pounds. By this time, Jenny had won a thousand pounds. That was definitely hers, whatever happened. She answered the next question correctly, which was worth five thousand pounds. I didn't know the answer, but she did know. Then with the next question, she ... (5.) ... a risk but got the answer wrong. She was gone out of the game. Still, she had her thousand pounds, and we were very proud of her.

Ex 21- Read the text carefully then choose the correct answer for each of the questions below
The population of the world has increased more in modern times than in all other ages of history combined. World population totaled about 500 million in 1650. It doubled in the period from 1650 - 1850. Today the population is more than five billion. Estimates based on research by the United Nations indicate that it will more than double in the twenty five years between 1975 and the year 2000, reaching seven billion by the turn of the century.

No one knows the limits of population that the earth can support. Thomas Malthus, an English economist, developed a theory that became widely accepted in the nineteenth century. He suggested that because world population tended to increase more rapidly than the food supply, a continual strain was exerted upon available resources. Malthus cited wars, famines, epidemics, and other disasters as the usual limitations of population growth.

With recent advances in science and technology, including improved agricultural methods and great strides in medicine, some of the limiting factors in population growth have been lessened, with obvious results.

International organizations, including the United Nations, are recommending an increase in food production, general economic development in target areas, and a decrease in birth rates. Most experts agree that it will be necessary to combine all three recommendations in an effort to effect a lasting solution.
